3 SLAIN IN FIT OF JEALOUSY SWAYS TABERNACLE CROWD

SULTAN'S CABINET UNDER GUARD

Attempted Flight Feared Following Escape of Mohammed

WILL BE TRIED FOR TREASON

Wives of Former Ruler Ignorant of His Plans

CONSTANTINOPLE — (Associated Press) — The Turkish Nationalists consider that Sultan Mohammed VI by his flight has surrendered the Caliphate, according to Raft Pasha, Kemalist governor of Constantinople. "According to the Moslem law," he told The Associated Press, "when the sultan leaves Turkish soil and enters Christian territory, he places himself under Christian protection and thereby loses the caliphate, ceasing to retain any authority over the Moslems."

Mohammed's departure on the British dreadnaught Malaya in the face of threatened trial for treason by the Ankara government was compared by Raft Pasha to the flight of Damat Ferid Pasha, former Grand Vizier, and the other members of the opposition, "who by their acts were compromised in the eyes of the whole Turkish nation."

"Great Britain's connivance in the escape," he added, "is flagrant interference in Turkey's internal affairs."

CABINET GUARDED

Rafet was much agitated. He spent several hours following the escape in frantically telephoning Ankara for instructions and taking precautions against the flight of the members of the sultan's cabinet and other high personages wanted by the Nationalists.

The sultan left his palace by the back door, known as the Malta gate, which heretofore has always been sealed.

Only three persons in the palace knew of the intended flight, namely the court chamberlain, the sultan's personal physician and his ban Istanbuler. These were the only palace officials to be trusted toward the end, as he even kept his wives in the dark as to his plans.

The flight was so carefully arranged that the Nationalist officers and soldiers stationed in the palace grounds did not learn of it until shortly before salamik or prayer ceremony at noon in which the sultan was to have participated.

All pedestrian and vehicular traffic in the neighborhood of the palace was then stopped and the place was surrounded by Nationalist military and gendarmerie. Within the palace consternation reigned among the sultan's wives and eunuchs.

AMERICANS WAIT

At the selamik a number of Americans waited in vain for the sultan's ceremonial progress to the mosque.

Major Sherman Miles, American military attaché, and son of Lieutenant General Miles, was a spectator at the selamik with his wife. He inquired of the sultan's aide as to Mohammed's whereabouts to which the aide replied,

"He is safe in the palace, but has a very bad cold and does not think it safe to venture out."

The Kemalists today took measure to guard the famous palace containing the precious relics of the caliphate the priceless gifts to the sultan and his predecessors from world monarchs since the time of the prophet.

Messages from Ankara state that the determination of the Grand National Assembly to place the sultan and his cabinet on trial was based on its decision that they were guilty of a crime against the Ankara government in accepting the allies' invitation to participate in the Lausanne peace conference.

CONVICT RETURNED TO CLEVELAND FOR TRIAL

VAST CROWD ASSEMBLES

CLEVELAND — "Big Jim" Morton, known as "Cleveland's most dangerous criminal," will be back in the county jail Monday.

Preparations were being made in the penitentiary at Columbus Saturday to send him here for a new trial on the charge of leading the $65,000 robbery of the West Cleveland Bank.

Morton has been serving from one to 15 years on the conviction obtained in his first trial. He will receive a new trial thru action of the state supreme court which Friday refused a motion for a rehearing of the case tried by the county prosecutor.

The rehearing was asked when it was announced last July that the high court had granted Morton another trial.

JOINT ALLIED ACTION AGAINST TURKS PLANNED

PARIS—Joint allied action against the Turk in the Near East, in case Mustapha Kemal's envoys refuse the allied terms at Lausanne, was planned today at a luncheon attended by Lord Curzon, Premier Poincaré and the Marquis Averzano.

Despite the Ottoman threat to disrupt the Lausanne peace conference, at which a settlement of the Near East impasse is to be attempted if the allies arrange terms in advance, Curzon, Averzano and Poincaré, representing Britain, Italy and France, respectively, went right ahead with plans for a virtual ultimatum. It was announced Close accord, along general lines, was reached, it was stated.

PATHEMIC SCENES MARK MEETING

Hundreds Fall Under Spell of Evangelist Biederwolf

PRAYERS FOR LOVED ONES

"Meanest Man in Lima" Sermon Subject Friday Night

"Man's best friend is his Mother". Hundreds of men and women traversed the sawdust paths at the Dr. W. E. Biederwolf Tabernacle Friday night and sank to their knees to offer prayers for members of their family and friends who have strayed from the paths of righteousness. Most of these Christian people are mothers; mothers who, with tears streaming down their faces, fell to their knees on the shavings and offered petitions for wayward sons who have forsaken Jesus Christ. One mother asked her Heavenly Father to be with her son, a soldier in the world war, who is still overseas. The climax came during Dr. Biederwolf's sermon in "The Meanest Man in Lima."

Aged men and women asked the Lord to be with their sons and daughters and bring them into the fold before it was too late. Strong men clasped their hands and asked their Father to be with brothers who have wandered from the teachings of their childhood. One man prayed that his wife might return to her home and her God. Many women offered heart breaking prayers for the souls of their husbands who have not yet given their hearts to God.

GOD IS EXALTED

"There is no fraternal organization in the world that is fit to wash the feet of the Church," Biederwolf declared. "And yet so many church members will stand up for the House of God to which they belong. There are so many church members who are willing to let the petty pleasures of this world stand between them and their work for God."

If the good women of the church would spend half the time trying to get part of the unconverted world into the church, that they do sweating over a cake that will bring 50 cents at a church sale, the places of worship would be full of good men and women and the work of God would show results everywhere. But some of the members think that if they help gather in money for a new rug, or a new piano for the church, they are serving the Lord."

"Prohibition has come to stay," the evangelist declared. "The people are going to give it a fair trial. Its results cannot be seen in a few days, not in a year. No, not in years. It will be 75 years before the world will know whether it has done any good and then they will be so sure of the success of a dry country that there will never be a chance of a saloon getting back into God's country."

"Some one has said: 'Oh, I think the saloon is alright in its place. So do I. Its place is hell. There it was born, from there it first came into the world and the world has sent it back forever.'

"We buried John Barleycorn and we buried him face downward," Biederwolf said, "and every time he scratches and digs around to get out he only gets himself nearer the hell that he came from."

VAST CROWD ASSEMBLES

The Tabernacle was packed from front to rear Friday night. More than 6,500 persons gathered to worship. There was not sufficient room for the delegations. Men and women from Blinton and Beaverdam came in a body. The crowd from Beaverdam surpassed all expectations and trouble was found to find places for them all.

The Lima Locomotive Works and B. & O. Railroad were well represented by men from the shops and offices.

Dr. Biederwolf said he was pleased thru and thru by the magnificent attendance and the devoted spirit of every one.

Dr. Biederwolf said the meanest man in Lima is the man who won't do what he knows he should do. Any man who will not lend his name or show his colors for what he knows is right is the smallest piece of humanity that the devil ever let live," he continued.

The man who, because of the fear of public opinion, will not stand against the liquor traffic, card playing, gambling or any of the other vices which he knows are wrong is a coward, and the world despises a coward.

"General U. S. Grant stood up for the Union because he knew in his own heart that he was right. General Robert E. Lee, one of the best men that ever lived, stood up for the Confederate states because he was right. Neither man let public sentiment stand in the light of his decisions. Both were brave men. They stood for what they thought

MISS VERA ROSS, ABOVE, AND J. M. KETCHER.

Miss Verna Ross, 23, of Little Rock, Ark., will be tried Dec. 1 on a charge of assault to kill her former sweetheart, John M. Ketcher, wealthy tinner. She is charged with having fired a shot at Ketcher as he emerged from a theatre with another woman, and persists in declaring she's not sorry she tried to shoot him. Miss Ross has instituted suit for $25,000 in breach of promise against Ketcher.

MILLIONAIRE RED CAN'T BE FOUND

W. B. Lloyd Believed to Have Fled Country

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Belief that William Gross Lloyd, millionaire red, under sentence of from one to five years in the Illinois penitentiary for violation of the state espionage act, has fled the country, was expressed by deputies today.

Officers searched throughout the night for Lloyd who has lost his last chance to escape the sentence and was sought to begin the prison term. The palatial Lloyd home in the exclusive suburb of Winnetka was searched from cellar to garret, by Charles Freeman, chief court bailiff. Freeman declared that the house appeared as tho Lloyd had not been there for some time.

Attorney William S. Forrest, who appealed to the supreme court to allow Lloyd to go free because the convicted man had $1,800,000 worth of real estate which needed his attention, said he did not know where his client was.

"I do not believe he is a fugitive, however," Forrest declared. "He will give himself up as soon as he has his business affairs arranged, in my opinion."

It Lloyd has fled the country he has emulated the example of "Big Bill" Haywood, I. W. W. leader, who went to Russia when facing a long prison term for violation of the federal espionage act; and Grover Cleveland Bergdolt, draft evader, who escaped from an army sentence.

SHARP FUNERAL SERVICES WILL BE HELD MONDAY

ELYRIA—Messages of sympathy from all parts of the country today came to the widow of William Graves Sharp, former ambassador to France, who died at his home, after a brief illness here yesterday.

Arrangements have been made for a public funeral Monday afternoon. Burial services, in Elyria cemetery, will be private.

Sharp's death ended a long period of public service, by one of Ohio's most conspicuous citizens. He was 62 years of age and Elyria had been his home since early childhood. His arrival in Paris as American ambassador in 1914 was a memorable date. It fell on the day the German armies were nearest to Paris.

FEW VETERANS IN NEXT SENATE

Ohio Body Made up Mostly of New Members

G. O. P. LEADERSHIP "IN AIR"

Uncertain as to Who Will be President Pro Tem

COLUMBUS, (United Press) — Only 14 members of the senate of the 54th general assembly will be in the new senate when the legislature convenes January 1. Twenty-three senators of the last legislature either did not run for re-election, sought other office, or were defeated in primary or election contests.

Absence of many of the veteran senators makes it very uncertain now who will be president pro tem or "floor leader" of the Republican majority in the new senate. F. E. Whittemore, majority leader in the last senate, is not a member of the 55th assembly.

With a Democratic presiding officer, Earl D. Bloom, lieutenant governor—the floor leader's job may be more difficult in the coming session than usual when president and floor leader are of the same party.

PROBABLE CANDIDATE

George E. Kydner, Henry-co, who will be serving his third term in the senate, the veteran in point of senate service, is regarded a natural candidate for the job as floor leader. Senator J. R. Gardner, Cincinnati, and Senator J. J. Rowe, Cleveland, are both reported to be candidates.

D. A. Liggett, of Logan-co, who served in the 53rd but not in the 54th assembly, is likewise said to be in a receptive mood.

C. G. Pence, Highland-co, although not announced candidate, is being talked of as likely entrant. Pence is said to be the first candidate strong enough to break the one term rule in his district. He served in the senate in the 54th and in the house in the 80th and 81st assemblies.

The chance of either Gardner or Pence getting the job is discounted because of reluctance of senators from rural districts to let a city man have the leadership. Gardner being from Cincinnati and having voted well last session, would also meet with opposition from the drys.

W. E. Halley, clerk of the last senate, is regarded as probable successor to himself. Former Lieutenant Governor Brown of Blanchester and Robert T. Harris, Columbus, secretary to Governor Davis, are both mentioned, however, as possible candidates for the clerkship.

THREAT OF MAYOR IS DERIDED

Commissioners Scout Danger of Suit for Street Repair Fund

Announcement of the proposed plan of Mayor Harold Cunningham and the city commission to sue the county for tax money for street construction and maintenance, was received with indignation not unmixed with amusement by the county commissioners Saturday, members of that body indicated.

"Say if you wanted to get some money from a man, would you go out and hit him with a club before asking for it?" inquired Glen Wallace, clerk of the board. "You'd stand a fat chance of getting it, I don't think."

Wallace expressed surprise, at the attitude taken by Mayor Cunningham, in view of the amount being spent by the county on streets inside the city of Lima.

"It is true," he declared, "that the streets are a continuation of county roads, but they are nevertheless among the most important outlets to the country."

"Besides improving by stoning all important outlets to the city, the county," Wallace said, "is actually spending $39,715 to pave Findlay-rd, Elmbridge and E. Kirby-st. In addition the county is building a $14,000 public comfort station at the court house."

A station has long been needed, Wallace pointed out, but would never have been built had the county not gone ahead with it.

"The county," Wallace asserted, "had to spend road money according to law and not according to the whims of the city commission. The legislature, not the commissioners, made the laws," he added.

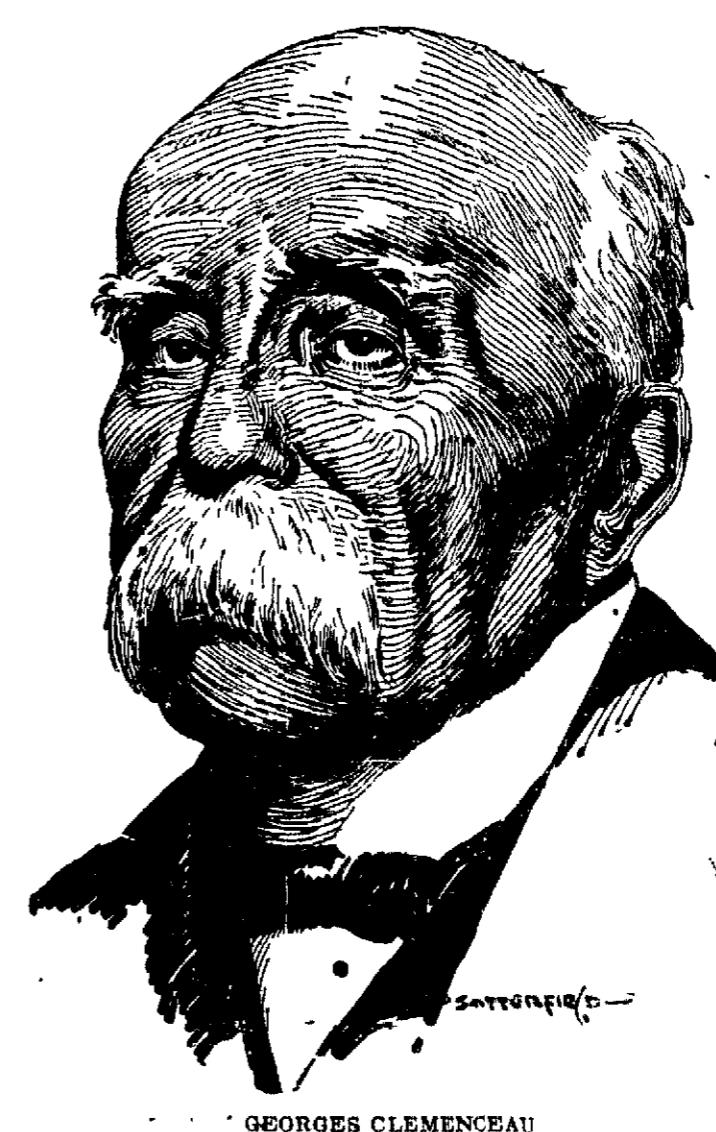

Wallace was of the opinion that economies could be effected in the city government by the elimination of useless offices and the reduction of high salaries.

France, thru Premier Briand's speech in Washington, blocked any action that might have been taken to put check on armaments at the Conference of the League of Nations.

France's demands on battleship tonnage considered excessive and her checkmating of a limitation on submarine construction caused official and general disfavor and chagrin in the United States.

Meantime, the "father of victory" of France, accompanied only by his hat and cane, as he puts it, unsupported by the French government is here today to work alone for better relations between his country and the United States.

WILL FIGHT SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

Program of Senate Farm Bloc is Announced

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press) — A program of "constructive legislation" coupled with a declaration against the administration ship subsidy bill was announced by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, chairman of the senate farm bloc, in a statement today upon his return for the opening of congress.

If the Republican party is to continue in power, said Senator Capper in commenting on the recent elections, it must finish a constructive program including among other things the following acts:

"Put thru the complete rural credit program, to provide farmers and stockmen with adequate financial system.

"Reduce freight charges.

"Repeal Section 15-A (giving the interstate commerce commission control over state rates) and other objectionable provisions of the transportation act.

"Carry out the policy for a better system of marketing.

"Put the development of the Muscle Shoals project in the hands of Henry Ford."

Other items on Senator Capper's program were passage of the "truth in fabrics" and Voight "filled milk" bills, further reductions in government expenses and taxes and steps to promote European recovery and re-establish foreign markets.

$11,000 A DAY TO GIVE ADVERTISING A CHANCE

That Is The Amount William Wrigley, Jr., Will Spend In 1922 To Place His Chewing Gum Before the Public--$4,015,000 In 12 Months

—And The Lima News Carries The Regular Schedule Of Wrigley Advertising In This Shopping District

Here is what he says after discussing his trials and troubles in business during 32 years:

"But thru it all there has been one thing that never has failed us. This is advertising. It is possible to make mistakes in advertising as in everything else relating to business. We have made ours, I suppose. But in the main, we have been fortunate enough to be able to think clearly on this vital principle. If I had to sum up in just a word the reason why advertising has done so much for us, I think I would say this: 'We gave it a fair chance.'"

Are you giving advertising a fair chance to do for you what Wrigley says it has done for him? Are you selecting your medium with the idea of getting the most for your money—a medium that gives your message circulation over the entire territory you want to reach?

There is such a medium at your command. The Lima News will give you command of your entire trading district at a single cost; just as it is helping the Wrigley Co., dominate this field.

In Lima, merchandising reliability, progressiveness, fair dealing and best values are measured by the ads in The News.

GOOD OLD DAYS

DO you get impatient when you have to wait in a railroad station for a train that is late? And keep watching the bulletin board to see if the bad news, after all, may not prove to be a mistake? Nothing worse than waiting for a delayed train—unless it's waiting in a dentist's office.

An old-timer, reminiscing in the Wall Street Journal, tells of people who waited for trains 73 years ago in Chicago.

There was no telegraph there in those days. So John B. Turner, president of the Galena & Chicago Union Railroad, had an observatory built on top of Chicago's first depot in 1849.

Turner had his office in the tower. Using a marine telescope, he watched thru the window for incoming trains. The telescope enabled him to "spot" an approaching train as far as Austin, six miles away.

Then Turner would shout the glad news downstairs and the impatient travelers would sigh with relief and marvel at the benefits conferred on humanity by that great scientific achievement, the telescope.

TODAY the location of approaching and departing passenger trains is known with precision, thanks to telegraph, telephone and radio.

You can look at the depot bulletin board and know whether a train not due for hours, is on time or late.

Even better, you can telephone to the station, miles away. If the train is reported delayed, you wait in your comfortable home until time for the train, instead of in a dismal station.

Great strides? The everyday commonplace services which we take as a matter of course in modern times would have been magical luxuries back in 1849.

SOMEHOW, tho, the telegraph and telephone and radio appeal to us less than the quaint picture of old man Turner in his tower, watching the railroad tracks with a small telescope.

People were not in such a hurry, back yonder. They took life as it came. And maybe they were happier.

The telegraph and telephone and radio had not been invented then, for they were not needed. As soon as the actual need arose, inventors provided them. In their way, they are marvels. But their major function seems to be to enable people to rush about faster, in a mad semi-stampede that seems to have neither goal nor meaning.

And sometimes we wonder if it wouldn't be a good thing for the world if it could undo a lot of its progress and slip back to the simpler "good old days." Maybe not. But old man Turner and his telescope certainly fire the imagination.

0 0 0 0 AN ECONOMIC PROBLEM

DR. JOSEPH L. BAER, discussing birth control before the Chicago Women's Club, comments: "Nowadays there is a general limit of two or three children to a family of fair means. In the past there were 10 or 12."

The cause for this is in our system of economics, for the mother instinct is as strong now as in grandma's day. Under an almost prohibitive cost of living, raising a big family requires more heroism than the Charge of the Light Brigade. How would you like to buy shoes for a family of 14, not to mention bacon and eggs and other trifles?

Birth control is more of an economic problem than one of morals.

WHERE DOGS GET THE GLORY

DOGS worth as much as $1000 apiece were assisted by people on horseback, in the 29th annual chase of the National Association of Fox Hunters, near Washington, C. H., Ohio.

If you followed the news about this meet, you noticed that it was against the rules to kill a fox. Each hunter's aim was to get a "good report card" for his dog. A queer "sport," with human beings fading to the background and everything revolving around the dogs.

It reminds you of Abe Martin's comment on the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show: "The dogs were good, but they had poor support."

HORSESHEOES

UR nation still has twice as many horses as autos. The auto may be more economical than the horse. However—

The census shows that the country has only 12 horseshoe-making establishments, and the horseshoes they turn out are worth only $1,031,621 a year.

In other words, a year's supply of shoes for one horse is worth about 10 cents when it leaves the factory. Compare this with tires, which are to autos what iron shoes are to horses. The auto's superiority over the horse, financially, is not the point of contact with the ground.

MANY IMPORTANT GAMES ON SATURDAY'S GRID CARD

TITLES AT STAKE

CHICAGO — The three unbeaten teams in the Western Conference championship race, Chicago, Iowa and Michigan today engaged in battles which may be the determining factors in the chase for the title.

Most of the football experts picked the three leaders to win today at the same time, qualifying predictions by calling attention to previous upsets in dope and the fighting ability of the opposing eleven—Illinois, Ohio State and Wisconsin.

The Illini, who played Iowa to a standstill and then bumped Wisconsin out of the race by 8 to 0 victory over the Badgers, meet the Maroons here on Stagg Field. The Badgers invaded Ann Arbor, home of the Wolverine while Ohio State, in the Buckeye stadium at Columbus will attempt to check the advance of Iowa toward another title to hang up with the spoils of 1921.

There were no other conference games scheduled.

OWEN IS STAR OF HARVARD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — George Owen is unquestionably the star of the Harvard eleven.

While the Crimson boasts a crack back field, Owen carries the punch, he is Harvard's big threat.

Coach Bob Fisher is grooming Owen for the tilts with Princeton and Yale. He has no chance with his outstanding star in the other games.

Against Centre College it was Owen who crashed over the line for the first Harvard score. At the close of the first period with Harvard enjoying a safe margin Owen was taken out of the game and witnessed the remainder of the battle from the side lines.

Don't get the impression that Harvard is a one-man team, far from it. In the back field Fisher has some wonderful material, but Owen is the big star.

In Princeton's game with Chicago the westerners waited for the break, and when it came Fullback Thomas was put to work. He crashed thru the Tiger line for three touchdowns, all on straight football, when Chicago got within striking distance of the Tiger goal.

Harvard is almost certain to play a somewhat similar game. Fisher has a tendency to win with straight football if possible. Owen of Harvard is the equal of Thomas when it comes to crashing thru the line.

Fisher knows that Harvard's line is superior to Princeton and is certain to try to take advantage of this weakness thru the plowing powers of Owen.

Against Yale it was Owen who crashed over the line for

TIGER VS BULLDOG

NEW YORK — The Tigers and the Bulldog hold the center of the eastern football stage today. Marking the second of this year's "big three" encounters and with the title claims of both Yale and Princeton depending on its outcome, the game in Palmer Stadium promises to add a sensational chapter to the historic records of this gridiron classic.

In other outstanding contests of the day, Washington and Jefferson appeared slightly apter for Pittsburgh; Syracuse possessed a slight margin over Colgate on past performances; Pennsylvania State the not up to last year's standard, was favored to down Pennsylvania; Dartmouth was conceded an advantage over Columbia in a game scheduled at the Polo grounds; while Harvard, starting its regulars, was expected to overpower the strong Brown eleven.

From the position of favorite a fortnight ago, because of a preponderance of veteran strength, especially in the backfield, Yale in the opinion of experts today, had no better than an even chance with Princeton, the loss thru injuries of Chetey O'Hearn and Bill Mallory, star backfield men, having been a severe blow to the blue.

The New Haven forces however have an edge in backfield combinations even without Mallory and O'Hearn.

Princeton on the other hand has a great pair of tackles in Treat and Baker, the latter a hero of the Harvard victory last week. The Tiger, in addition, will carry the battle to Yale while on the crest of a victorious wave that has swept Colgate, Chicago and the Crimson to defeat.

In the final analysis, the uncertain break of the game, the shifting human factors, may turn the tide either way.

Among contests of lesser importance, Cornell will meet Albright in its final game prior to the clash with Pennsylvania, Thanksgiving Day; Georgetown will battle Bucknell and New Hampshire will try conclusions with Boston University.

FIELDING YOST MAY RETIRE AS ACTIVE HEAD COACH

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Fielding Yost to retire as head football coach at the close of the present season? Gossip around the campus is in the affirmative.

Yost, who is now director of all athletics at Michigan, has been in charge of football activities as head coach for 22 years.

It is hinted that if all goes well at Michigan this year, and at the present time things are flourishing, Yost will turn the football worries over to his assistant, George Little. Of course, Yost will continue to act in an advisory capacity as director of athletics.

Yost has an enviable record as football coach at Michigan. He certainly put the Maize and Blue on the map from a sporting standpoint.

Yost came to Michigan in 1901. He probably won his greatest fame in his first four years at Michigan. His teams from 1901 to 1904 were practically invincible. Those were the days of the "point-a-minute" eleven.

Michigan in the first four years of Yost regime won 55 out of 57 games, tying one and losing the other. Minnesota in 1903 played the Wolverines to a 6 to 6 tie, while Chicago in 1905 beat Michigan, 2

Ohio's Grid Games

COLUMBUS—Today's football schedule for Ohio includes the following:

- Iowa at Ohio State.
- Miami at Oberlin.
- Otterbein at Ohio University.
- Kenyon at Reserve.
- Cincinnati at Wittenberg.
- Hiram at Akron.
- Wooster at Mt. Union.
- Marshall at Muskingum.
- Dayton at Wilmington.

FIELD IS MUDDY

Saturday's game between Central and Springfield Highs at College field will prove illuminating to football fans, who are anxious to see whether the Red and Green aggregation can keep their feet in heavy going.

The rain early Saturday morning made the field rather muddy and will compel Central to abandon their fake plays with quick short passes and stick to safe, steady-going straight football.

In previous games, where the field was not nearly as sticky as Saturday, Central made several costly fumbles. If these fumbles are eliminated, the team will look lots better.

Ohioans who just laid out a million and a half dollars for a new stadium, have hoped without gain thru the Buckeyes long string of defeats but "them days are gone for" the season at least.

A cold rain, setting in at day-break, further dampened the home spirit. The drizzle won't soften the solid sod of the new field, but it may interfere with the Iowa aerial air attack for which the Bucks have been preparing.

Both teams have a cripple. Coach Howard Jones of the Hawkeyes, announced definitely today that Leland Parkins, quarterback, won't even suit up. He has an infected leg. Harold Wasson, star right tackle for the Bucks, who made a great showing in the Minnesota game, will not appear today in the Ohio line, Coach Wilce said.

Iowa is one of the three undefeated teams in the big ten conference and victory will practically clinch a claim to retaining the title which they won last year. Ohio, on the other hand, will be fighting to win her first game.

The Maroons feared the fighting spirit of the Illini, shown in their battle against the Wisconsin team Saturday.

It's reported that Frank Chance, former Chicago Cub and New York Yankee manager, has sold his California ranch and will go east to enter baseball.

Unbeaten Teams Face Acid Tests in Saturday's Contests

Saturday will be a test day for many unbeaten teams in the east and west and hereabouts.

Oberlin meets Miami at Oberlin, while the undefeated Michigan, Iowa and Chicago teams in the "Big Ten" battle Wisconsin, Ohio State and Illinois respectively. Nebraska and Drake play and so does Wesleyan.

Yale and Princeton clash at New Haven and Pitt tackles Washington and Jefferson.

The rather unexpected defeat of Wisconsin at the hands of the Illini robs the Michigan game of much of its glory. That will not prevent a capacity crowd, tho, for the tickets are all sold now.

Both teams were pointed for this game, which was at one time thought to be the deciding game in the championship race. The Badgers tried to sneak thru last week without uncovering any of the good stuff they wanted to use against Michigan and got caught when it was too late to recover.

Wisconsin didn't get the jump and never overcame the lead the Illini took early in the game. While it is true that Michigan defeated Illinois 24-0 earlier in the year, that score does not indicate the real strength of the two teams which meet this week. Nor does it indicate the pressing need Coach Richards has of winning the rest of his games if his alumni are to support him.

Chicago, playing on its own field, should take the Illini scalp, but not without a hard battle.

Iowa may encounter difficulty at Ohio State the the Ohioans have had a tough year.

You never tell when their forward passes will start to gain ground for them, however, and given a break or two they may annex the victory.

Minnesota scored two of its touchdowns thru the air and State can do the same. Ohio has been playing in tough luck on its pass attack.

Down east the Princeton Tiger meets Yale in a game which will decide for a lot of fans on whom they will bet next week.

According to Jesse Orndorff, former Los Angeles catcher, who will be an former Los Angeles catcher, who will be an

to be to prepare young players of promise for big league work by coaching and teaching which they often fail to get with the bush league teams.

Ground has been broken at Burbank for the diamonds which will be ready, it was announced, about January 10.

"Burbank's chamber of commerce has agreed to house the students for one year, and then if the school is a success we will erect a large dormitory," said Orndorff.

The college will offer courses of three months which will be devoted to intensive baseball practice and instruction.

Heretofore a young player has been shunted around from one bush league to another, often failing to receive instruction from an overburdened manager, with the result that the player has frequently become discouraged and quit.

"There are schools for nearly every other occupation, yet none for baseball in which the average pay is probably higher than most professions."

On the active instruction force will be Sam Crawford, formerly of Detroit; "Death Valley" Jim Scott, long one of the Chicago White Sox moundsmen; Frank Dillon, former Detroit, Pittsburgh, San Brooklyn player; George Wheeler, once with the Philadelphia Nationals and Milwaukee; Jerry Downs, Detroit outfielder; Walter Boles and Orndorff, of the coast league.

Frank Chance, leader of the Chicago Cubs, will be connected with the college in an advisory capacity.

"The games played on our diamonds will be free and there will be no Sunday work," the opening announcement said. "There will be a special committee to look after the moral welfare of the students. When possible, those who show ability will be placed with the minor leagues."

Benny Leonard is still too much troubled by his bad teeth to take on the gridiron.

If Bentley should happen to do all the things in fast company next year as well as he has been doing for three years in the minors and if Ruth has slipped as far as is generally believed, the Giants have a fine chance to take a lot of business away from the new Yankee stadium and from the standpoint of modern baseball, the "gate" is always the first to be considered.

With a young $75,000 outfielder—Jimmy O'Connell, from the Pacific Coast—and with Bentley, a $50,000 star filled with color as well as a whole team that is regarded as the best in baseball, the Giants have enough drawing power now to induce the Yankees to say some strong words in the vicinity of one Babe Ruth.

If some reports are to be believed, the powerful words have already been said within hearing distance and Ruth, according to some of his close friends, is going to spend the winter season in semi-training around his New England farm.

If he elects to follow that course this winter, Ruth will have a thinner

NEW YORK—In possession of a "million-dollar" infield and with the promise of an outfield almost as valuable, the dopes are can see nothing but a pitching role for Jack Bentley, the recently acquired all-around star from Baltimore.

The Giants need pitchers, if they are going to win their third consecutive pennant and if Bentley is one-third as good as he is said to be, he will be worth the $50,000 or $75,000 that the New Yorkers are reported to have paid for him.

Cunningham showed in the world's series that he is one of the best young prospects in the league. He has some faults, of course, but he hasn't had the experience and when it comes down to that fine point—who are the perfect outfields and how did they become perfect?

TIGERS LAUD CHICAGO

"Think victory and then fight for it," is an old Princeton adage.

The Princeton spirit is known the world over in sportdom. The Tigers never admit defeat.

Princeton spirit is known the world over in sportdom. The Tigers never admit defeat.

The Tigers defeated Chicago because the players refused to admit defeat. The comeback of the Princeton team in that game is one of the most sensational ever recorded in the gridiron.

Princeton's sportsmanship is in keeping with the Tiger spirit. In discussing the Chicago game one of the Tiger stars recently said,

"If Princeton played Chicago 100 games, Chicago would probably win 96 of them. We got the breaks and took advantage of them. Often a team doesn't get the breaks, often it isn't able to take advantage of them."

Grover Land, old-time catcher for Cleveland when Joe Birmingham was manager, has signed with Danville, Va.

If he elects to follow that course this winter, Ruth will have a thinner

ALL AMERICANS KINGS NOW!

Standards Compared With Present by Forbes

MACHINERY TODAY'S SLAVE

Measured in Comforts,
Convenience, He Says

(B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK—(Special).—Discontent.

Yet, may not a lot of it be,

not discontent with what we have but, discontent with what we ourselves are or are not?

It is not true that the faults of the world are simply the faults of ourselves?

It is not true that we get out of the world just about what we put into it.

Of course, there is discontent and discontent. There is a worthy brand of discontent and an unworthy kind. There is a species of discontent that spurs human beings to greater effort and higher achievement. This "Divine discontent" has inspired most of the progress made in civilization. But this kind of discontent usually has as its goal achievement, conquest, power, or fame.

Most of the discontent raging today, however, is discontent over possessions, not a spurring ambition to accomplish. It is discontent with what we have, not with what we want. We have done or have failed to do. It is discontent over what we own, not over what we owe to the world.

Now, just how badly off are we? Just how severe are the hardships we are suffering? Just now trying to live today in this country?

Everything in this world, it has been well said, is relative. We argue at conclusions by making comparisons.

Everyone knows that living conditions in America are better than in other land.

Measured by this standard, therefore, we Americans are exceptionally well off.

The only other comparison it is important to make is comparison with the conditions formerly existing in our own country. Applying this comparison, what do we find?

Do we have to work as hard as did our forefathers?

Do we have fewer comforts and luxuries than they had had?

Do we have poorer food, poorer clothes, poorer homes?

Read this from the General Motor Truck Company's "sales generator" under the caption "Thirty States." Every person has twice science proves."

"Take away all our machinery and steam and electrical power, and it would require 3,000,000,000 hard working slaves to duplicate the work done by Americans. The use of power and machinery gives to every man, woman and child in our country the equivalent of 30 slaves. This figure is out in the latest bulletin of the Smithsonian Institution.

"Why envy the nobleman, back in ancient Egypt or Bagdad, with 30 slaves living for him? He had swift running slaves to bring him fish from the ocean and bird feathers from the mountains. Today, with a few slaves, you can get a tin or a pump brought from Japan, a package of dates from Syria, a bag of nuts from Brazil, sardines from Norway. Your slaves—machinery and power—brings them.

"Plenty of old settlers, now living, can recall the days before matches, when they ran a mile from the nearest neighbor with a shovelful of blazing coals.

"Your real wealth is measured, not in money, but in the number of things you obtain to eat and wear, the ease with which you get them, the comforts and conveniences of your home, methods of transportation and amusement. It is only a few centuries since even the richest had no sewers, running water, rapid transportation or any of the commonplace things that brighten the lives of all today.

"A few years ago only the richest men in town had autos. Now there's an auto for every twelve Americans. Measured in ancient standards, we are all kings today, with the slaves of electricity, steam and machinery toiling constantly for us."

Suppose we try to cultivate a habit of thinking less over what he have and do not have and strive to develop within us a larger measure of that "Divine discontent" which spurs to greater exertion, greater energy, greater achievement, beneficial alike to ourselves and to the world.

Drawings by Bill Holman

Verses by Hal Cochran

Draw in the missing lines and then color the picture.

This steno takes dictation from
Her boss from morn till night;
And then rewrites the letters so
The words are all spelled right.
